Dear Sir or Madam,

It is my great pleasure to write the letter of recommendation for Xiaoqin Feng to your esteemed program. I came to know Xiaoqin through our collaborative research projects, during which Xiaoqin left me with a deep impression of her excellent academic performance and comprehensive ability.

Xiaoqin has demonstrated strong communication and teamwork skills in the advancement of research. At the weekly bilateral meetings, she is responsible for organizing the meetings and summarizing the progress of the research. She is always able to coordinate all parties well, organize active participation in discussions, and develop new feasible plans based on the actual situation. The weekly meetings have always ended in an orderly manner and research has progressed smoothly. And the AudioBook project we worked on together has been officially launched thanks to her tireless efforts.

Xiaoqin also has solid independent research and writing skills. In our collaborative research, she showed strong literature-searching and innovative thought as she proposed the contribution of the thesis based on rigorous experiments. The first draft version she writes is complete and logical, with breadth and depth. With follow-up modification and improvement, our paper is eventually submitted to ICASSP 2023.

In addition, this excellent girl has a strong passion for learning and research. She has continually expressed her desire to learn about various cutting-edge research findings in her field and to further her academic experience. Based on my personal appreciation of Xiaoqin, I sincerely hope that she could be given a chance to improve herself. With her excellent academic performance and comprehensive ability, I believe Xiaoqin could excel in your demanding program. Therefore, I highly recommend her to you. If there have any further questions, please feel free to contact me. Thank you for your consideration.

Best Regards,

Prof. Lei Xie,
